GETS A LARGER SUM.

Wife of a Former Virginian Comes Into Good Luck.

The following from a Northern paper will be read with interest here, as Mr. Anderson was formerly a resident of Gloucester county, N. J., and is now in Richmond.
The following is an account of a lawsuit, involving the estate of the late J. Elmer Ellis, better known as "Bud" Ellis, who was a resident of Gloucester county, N. J., for many years. He died in 1900, leaving a large estate. His wife, Mrs. Ellis, is now in Richmond, and is the subject of the lawsuit.
The lawsuit is a result of a will which was made by Mr. Ellis, and which was found to be invalid. The will was made in 1900, and was found to be invalid by the court. The court found that the will was made under duress, and was therefore invalid. The court then ordered that the estate be distributed to the children of Mr. Ellis, and to the wife of Mr. Ellis.

MAY BE LULA JOYNER.

Stolen Child Deserted in Alabama May Be Missing Girl.

The following letter, from Florence, Ala., recalls the mystery of the disappearance of Lula Joyner, who was thought by many to have been abducted by spies from her humble home in Lindwell county. It is possible that Lula Joyner is really the missing Virginia girl? She may be. This is the Florence letter:

Friends and far from home, ignorant even of the state from which she came, still long for the parents and little sister who may never see again, the story of Lula Joyner, who was deserted in this city by a band of spies, has been a tragedy to her humble home in Lindwell county. It is possible that Lula Joyner is really the missing Virginia girl? She may be. This is the Florence letter:

SCROFULA

Swollen glands, tumors, whitewellings, sores, pustular or scaly skin eruptions, flabby muscles, brittle bones, weak digestion, emaciated, ill-nourished bodies, are some of the well-known earmarks of Scrofula. Scrofula is inherited. Parents too closely related by the ties of blood, or tainted with consumption or blood poison, may look for signs of Scrofula in their children. The middle-aged often have it, but children are the chief sufferers. Scrofula breaks down the vital forces, and the blood becomes so weak and poor that it does not nourish the body. The remedy in all scrofulous affections must be one that purifies the diseased blood, builds up the weak digestion, increases the appetite and gives new energy and strength to all life's forces. No medicine has won so much fame as a blood purifier as S. S. S., and its tonic effects upon the system are not equalled by any other remedy. It makes the weak, tainted blood rich and strong, and drives out of the circulation all tubercular deposits and morbid matter that cause the glandular swellings, sores, abscesses, tumors and other horrible symptoms that make Scrofula so dreaded and dangerous.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

THE STATE'S FINANCES

Differences of Opinion as to What Revenue Will Be Available This Year.

SENATOR ANDERSON'S VIEWS

He Estimates the Total Amount From Various Sources at Nearly $700,000.

No question is of greater interest just now than that of the State's finances and the probable revenue that will be available during the two ensuing fiscal years. Upon the revenue available depends the fate of many bills carrying appropriations for various purposes now pending in the General Assembly.

Senator Henry T. Wickham has prepared a statement in which he bases his estimates on the figures given out by Auditor of Public Accounts Morton Marye. The summing up of the available revenue that may fairly be anticipated, as figured up by Mr. Wickham, is that for the two years ensuing the aggregate revenue available will be $538,655.77. He deducts from this total the dividend payable for two years on the State holdings of Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac stock, amounting to $14,864, leaving the aggregate revenue available at $483,791.77, which he contends belongs to the sinking fund.

MR. ANDERSON'S ESTIMATE.
Taking Mr. Wickham's own total, Senator George Wayne Anderson, after consulting the Corporation Commission and other authorities, shows that this is an ultra conservative estimate, and that the available funds of the State for the ensuing two fiscal years will be $633,065.77 at the least, and will probably exceed seven hundred thousand.

To Mr. Wickham's total he adds $26,800 interest on $1,115,000 bonds set aside some years ago and unused; $10,000 additional revenue from dispensaries; $7,500 increase in interest on deposits, and $40,000 as a conservative estimate of the revenue derived from registration fees and franchise taxes by the Corporation Commission, thus making up his total. Colored further points out that the auditor in his figures, which Mr. Wickham accepts, estimates the amount from capitation taxes at precisely what he estimated it under the old Constitution, making no allowance for the reasonable expectation already realized, that under the new Constitution, with payment of capitation taxes a prerequisite to suffrage, this sum will materially increase. Mr. Anderson is satisfied that the receipts from capitation taxes will exceed the sum derived from this source last year by at least $40,000. This he regards as a most conservative figure.

A State hospital for the insane are asking for about $150,000 more than they ask, and do not imperatively need that sum, in the opinion of Mr. Anderson.

SOME APPROPRIATIONS ASKED.
Against this total of $633,065.77, round numbers there are now pending bills proposing appropriations of $250,000 for the Capitol; $25,000 for heat, power and light plant; $17,000 for the Medical College of Virginia, which is really but $12,000 more than last year. The Virginia Polytechnic Institute asks $200,000, the Farmington State Normal school $100,000. This does not include appropriations proposed in various other bills, including Mr. Thomas's public school bill and others. All these proposed appropriations combined would make a total of $652,000 or nearly $200,000 in excess of the anticipated revenues, according to Mr. Anderson's figures.

It is very rare that any of the institutions asking special appropriation get all they ask, and usually the bill asks for about twice as much as they hope to get, expecting that demands on the revenues will be scaled.

Blacksburg and Farmville will get something, but if they get fifty per cent. of what they ask they will do well. The same may be said of the additional $150,000 asked by the insane hospitals. Granting that these were halved, the Capitol bill might still get through and leave a balance.

SOME MUST BE SCALED.
Even if all asked by Blacksburg, Farmville and the insane hospitals were granted them, the sums asked would hardly be half used in payments for enlargements and improvements before the two years are up. In the event that they were given half what they ask, they would be back two years hence for the other half. This Assembly cannot appropriate money on the expectation that another will supplement the appropriation, however.

On figures submitted, there appears to be good prospect that the Capitol bill may pass at this session, though it is being stoutly opposed by the advocates of appropriations for other purposes.
